COMPLIMENTARY.—The editor of the Lumpkin Telegraph in noticing the late State Convention alludes, in the following complimentary terms to two of our citizens: We repaired to the Kimball House—every room was taken, but Dr. Barnum and ourself decided to stay anyhow, and were soon fitted up by our old and universally popular friend, Major Warren, with a splended room. The Major is undoubtedly the most widely-known and popular hotel man South. He is clever and obliging to everybody, and no guest ever leaves the house without being struck with his unceasing kindness and care for their comfort. And it is a pleasure to stop at the Kimball House, for nothing in no respect is lacking to make it a healthful, pleasant and agreeable resort.

After the duties of the convention, we spent a day in strolling around, seeing the sights—and on Thursday evening we all accepted a kindly-tendered invitation of our old friend, and formerly fellow citizen, Judge W. A. Rawson, to take tea with him. We found the Judge handsomely fitted up in his splendid palatial residence, on the extreme end of Whitehall street, where we all enjoyed ourselves most pleasantly—for which we will ever thank the Judge, his pleasant and entertaining lady, and accomplished and handsome daughter. May naught but the purest happiness ever cross the happy threshold.

Delegates to State Convention.

SAVANNAH, July 15, 1872.

Editors Constitution: A large and enthusiastic meeting was held here last night, which appointed delegates to the convention and recommended the re-nomination of Governor Smith, with three cheers.

Bryan and Camden counties have appointed Smith delegates.

Gen. Toombs' Reply to the Card of Ex-Governor Brown.

From the Sun.]

WASHINGTON, GA., July 11, 1872.

To the Editors of the Sun: A brace of ex-Chief-Justices, of this State, honored me with their notice and vituperation in THE CONSTITUTION of the 3d instant. There were a trio of these chevaliers d'industrie engaged in the transactions referred to. The third member of the firm (Mr. H. I. Kimball) is absent from the State, I suppose, "from circumstances beyond his control." These assaults excite no surprise.

Since the adjournment of that band of public plunderers whom General Terry and Bullock installed as the Legislature of Georgia in October, 1870, I have devoted much of my time and strength in endeavoring to secure the persons of these accomplices in guilt, and to preserve the evidence of their crimes from destruction, until the criminal laws could be enforced against them, and a "free parliament of the people" could assemble to aid the administration of justice, and wrest from the grasp of the spoilers so much of their ill-gotten gains as might be within the reach of law or legislation.

These efforts have not been wholly unavailing and I trust I have been able to render some small service to some of the very able and efficient committees whom the Legislature have charged with the consummation of this great work. My small portion of the work has excited the deepest enmity of the whole gang of spoliators against me. I accept it as some evidence that I have not labored wholly in vain.

It is worthy of notice in the beginning, that not a single statement made by me in the publication to which they refer, is denied by either Lochrane or Brown. They do not deny that they, in connection with Kimball, engineered through the Legislature the resolution ceding the Railroad Park property in Atlanta, in the name of the heirs of Mitchell; nor that the Legislature accepted thirty-five thousand dollars from their clients in the face of a responsible offer of one hundred thousand dollars for a quit claim deed to the same property; nor that this action of the Legislature was the result of bribery, pure and simple; nor that the acceptance of the thirty-five thousand dollars in lieu of the one hundred thousand dollars offered under the circumstances contained in the journals, is conclusive of that fact. Here are the specific charges contained in my letter, and the proof referred to, to sustain them.

I shall dismiss the reply of Lochrane very summarily. Treachery, mendacity, venality, servility to Bullock and the Radical gang, rottenness in and out of office since the surrender, has so strongly stamped his character, that nothing he could now say—no new falsehood he might utter, and no new crime he might now commit would, in the least degree, affect his public reputation or his private character where he is known.

He boasts of buying a large portion of the Park property, and of large amounts expended in its improvement, when I know that since that purchase, if purchase it be, he has been compromising his honest debts for about thirty cents in the dollar; and if the money for the improvements came out of his purse, it must have been acquired by his practices under color of his profession, or his malpractices on the Bench.

Ex-Chief Justice Brown denies neither of the statements which I affirmed. He contents himself with quoting from my letter, and then adding: "Now if General Toombs, by this language, intends to say that I have been guilty of bribery in engineering this bill through the Legislature, I pronounce his statement an infamous falsehood and its author an unscrupulous liar."

He quoted the language, and therefore knew I did not "say" so. If he felt in doubt about the intention—the construction of the language—he might have asked for an explanation. The propriety of this course is so obvious that no gentleman could fail to perceive it. Brown preferred hypothetical denunciation, the usual dodge of a vulgar poltroon, and played his characteristic role. He is extremely technical: "if General Toombs intends by this language that I have been guilty of bribery in engineering this bill through the Legislature," etc. I think the probabilities are very much against Brown's being personally engaged in the bribery. I think he is too cunning and skillful a lobbyist to run any such unnecessary risks, especially with such experts as Kimball and Lochrane, aided by Blodgett, assisting him in the work of engineering the bill through the Legislature.

The plain history of the case, and the examination of the journals of the Legislature (the evidence to which I referred) will fully vindicate the correctness of my opinion of the transaction.

In 1842, Charles Mitchell, with the view to secure the location of the depot of the road on his land, donated, in fee simple, by deed of warranty, five acres of land to the State for "placing thereon the necessary buildings which may hereafter be required for public purposes at the terminus of said road." The State entered, occupied and held undisturbed possession of this property for nearly a quarter of a century.

In 1867, Brown & Pope brought suit for the heirs of Mitchell for the park portion of the property. No action was ever had on this suit; but in 1868, the case was carried before the Legislature, and the claim rejected. It there slept until Bullock got another reconstruction act through Congress, and he and General Terry had, by fraud and force, ejected a large number of the true representatives of the people, and replaced them with a sufficient number of his own pliant and corrupt tools to render powerless the honest men whom he could get no pretext for ejecting.

The State being thus prostrate at the feet of the usurpers and plunderers, Bullock, their chief, with a corrupt Judiciary of his own appointment, with a venal Legislature, sounded his bugle and called his clans to the sacking of the Commonwealth.

Lochrane was among the very first to obey the call. In July, 1870, he put in the rejected claim of the heirs of Mitchell, in a proposition to Bullock, to give him the whole of the property in dispute in the suits, except a strip of land two hundred and forty feet wide, between Loyd and Pryor streets, where the depot then and now stands, for thirty-five thousand dollars. This property was estimated then to be worth between three hundred thousand and four hundred thousand dollars, by some of the best citizens of Atlanta. The proposition was referred by Bullock to the counsel he had employed to defend the State's interests. Mr. William Dougherty, Judge Collier, Mr. Hoyt, Judge Hopkins and Mr. Nunnally, of the counsel, met, consulted, and, except Nunnally, unanimously decided that the title of the State was clear and unquestionable, and directed one of their number so to report to the Governor.

Judge Hopkins differs with Messrs. Dougherty, Collier and Hoyt as to the other facts, but agrees that the title of the State was clear.

Bullock sent in Lochrane's proposition, with a false statement, as was his habit, of a material fact in the case. This message was received on the 13th of October, 1870, referred to a select committee of both houses the same day, and on the next day was reported back with a recommendation that Lochrane's proposition be accepted. The counsel for the State had no notice of the meeting of the committee, and were not present, except Nunnally, who favored Lochrane's proposition, and Judge Hopkins, who suggested to Bullock a compromise, "on such terms as the relative vantage ground of the two parties will justify." Lochrane represented the Mitchell heirs.

This report was made the special order of the day for the 17th of October. It was taken up on that day. Mr. Candler, on the 14th, having moved to request the Governor to send in the opinions of the counsel for the State, his resolution, on motion of Mr. Speer, was laid on the table.

On the 17th Mr. Candler moved a substitute reciting the offer of General Austell and others, to bid one hundred thousand dollars for a quit claim to the Park, and providing for its acceptance and putting the property up at auction with that upset bid.

Mr. Bradley offered as a substitute to the whole a resolution to give the heirs of Mitchell the right to sue in the courts of the State for the property, which substitute was rejected, and the substitute of Mr. Candler was also rejected by one vote, and the report was then adopted by 22 to 11 votes.

The Chairman of the House Committee, on the 4th of October, made the same joint report to the House. It was taken up on the 20th, and Mr. Hall moved the adoption of the Senate's report as a substitute for his own.

Mr. Scott then submitted the offer of General Austell and twelve other citizens of Atlanta, to pay one hundred thousand dollars for the State's quit claim deed to the property within ninety days after date; and offered a resolution providing for commissioners to put up the property at public auction; and providing further, that if the commissioners failed to get a bid of one hundred thousand dollars for a quit claim title to the property, the Governor should be authorized to accept the proposition of the Mitchell heirs for thirty-five thousand dollars. This proposition was rejected by a vote of 49 to 73, and the Senate's substitute was adopted.

Such is the record upon which I formed the opinion that the action was the result of bribery, pure and simple. I did not suppose that all who voted for the bill were corrupted. Some men were doubtless misled. Others, influenced by other than corrupt motives; but it is clear that the managers of the scheme of plunder profited by their betrayal of their public trust.

The record is complete. The State's title was settled by the judgment of the Supreme Court; was clear and indisputable, in the opinion of four of the leading counsel of the State.

Their opinions were suppressed by a direct vote of the Senate. The friends of the bill refused to permit the claims to go before the courts for trial, though counsel fees to the amount of fifteen thousand dollars were paid to defend the titles. Thirty-five thousand dollars was accepted from the Mitchell heirs for a property in lieu of one hundred thousand dollars offered by others, without the pretence of a reason therefor being found on the record—except Jackson's letter to Bullock—which property, within a few days after the consummation of this wickedness, with all the cloud of this corruption hanging over it, bought at public outcry over two hundred thousand dollars.

Gov. Brown does not deny that he aided in lobbying this measure through the Legislature. He was present in the Senate when the bill was before it, as was also Lochrane, Kimball and Blodgett; and he was justly rebuked on the floor of the Senate by Mr Candler for his conduct in this matter.

Lobbying is a crime—a misdemeanor at common law; a crime intensified by his high judicial position.

But there is yet a still graver charge than lobbying against the ex-Chief Justice. Before these occurred, the case of Thornton and others vs. Trammell and others, came before the Supreme Court. It was a case really against the Western and Atlantic Railroad, for the Dalton depot, and involving the same principles. The counsel for the Road objected to Brown's sitting in that case, on the ground that he was employed in the Mitchell heirs' case, which was undecided. See 39th Georgia, 208 Brown stated "that in that case, the language of the deed is different, and I have turned over the case with the obligation of the fee to the other counsel. Under these circumstances," he was adjudged by the other Judges competent to sit on the case.

He did sit, dissented from the court, but gave no opinion. He weakened the opinion all he could by his dissent, but gave no opinion himself.

Was that statement of Brown true? If so, he either had no claims on the Mitchell heirs for fees, or he afterwards contracted for and accepted fees while on the Bench. If not true, he sat in a case in the decision of which he was interested, and decided in his own favor.

It is a high crime in the highest judicial officer of the State to bring his influence to bear in any way to control the action of the Legislature. His very position may control those who have suits before him. The ordinary criminal may be in his hands. He may have power to save from just punishment for his crimes even the victim of his own perfidious debauchery. R. TOOMBS.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., July 16.—Two Irishmen demanded work on a farm near Bear Bantes, Alamede county, last night, and were told by the farmer that he had a sufficient number of Chinamen engaged to harvest the crops. This morning they were detected firing the grain stocks and were captured. The prisoners were tried by neighboring farmers and hanged.

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT, July 15.—A military commission is now setting to inquire into the affair between Consul General Butler and the Khedive's officers. Generals Loring and Reynolds and Major Campbell testify to circumstances which, in their judgment, clearly show the affray was premeditated by Butler and his friends, their purpose being to take the life of Major Campbell. The latter was dangerously wounded. Butler left Alexandria in a mail packet steamer this morning.

LONDON, ONTARIO, July 16.—The case of Dr Rufus Bratton, abducted from Canada on the 4th of June and taken to South Carolina, came up to-day on remand. Dr. Bratton arrived here on Saturday, but was kept concealed until after the opening of court, when he made his appearance to the great surprise of the defendants, and his testimony showed that Cornwall, the prisoner, laid violent hands upon him on Waterloo street, handcuffed him, and with the assistance of the cab driver, thrust him into the cars; that he protested to the last, and only yielded because he relied on British justice to sustain him in the case. The case was further remanded.

In politics we shall, as formerly, co-operate with the Democratic party, at the same time using every diligence to conciliate the Liberal Republican Movement believing, as we do, that in the combination and consolidation of the Democrats and Liberals, lies the only political hope of the country, to be rescued from Military Tyranny and Radical Domination.

To our friends we appeal to assist us in thus extending our circulation, and point with pride to Our Record for the past seven years as a consistent, independent and newsy journal. While we have made a few mistakes, yet our old files show, and experience has vindicated the fact that we have most always BEEN RIGHT in our political opinions and suggestions relative to the various important public questions that have come up since the war, upon which the South has been called to think or act. Call for State Democratic Convention

ATLANTA, GA., June 26, 1872.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the State, held this day, it was resolved, that a Convention of the Democratic party be held in the city of Atlanta, on Wednesday, the 24th day of July next, at 12 o'clock M., in the Capitol building, in Atlanta, for the purpose of nominating an Electoral Ticket, and a candidate for Governor. Counties will be entitled to the usual representation.

JULIAN HARTRIDGE, Chairman.

Report of the Committee on the State Road Management Under Bullock.

This committee has finished its work. The Sun publishes the testimony under contract with the committee. It has the volume for sale at $1 50.

The evidence is racy. It shows a record of "snatching" as Col. Gaskill dubs it, unequalled in stealing annals. The aggregated penitentiaries of a million years couldn't beat it. Such infinite variety of grabbing was never exhibited. The ordinary methods of theft were stale to the ingenuity exhibited by the mongrel and ravenous horde of money-sucking leeches in charge of the road.

Some of the leading specimens of rascality we purpose to give. Aquilea J. Orme swore that three pass bills for $7,296 in his favor, approved by E. F. Blodgett, through Joseph Fry, and audited by N. P. Hotchkiss, he knew nothing of. Mr. Fry is wandering from justice for this little item. Fry says Hotchkiss got $500; and he thinks Mullins got some.

The State Road books show $9,830 paid to J. M. & J. C. Alexander more than goods were received. J. C. Alexander and Fry got the benefit. In this amount were such railroad necessities as Christmas presents for Fry's folks, such as silver tea sets, knives and forks, fine shot guns and rifles and "sich." Fry also made himself a present of a $450 gold watch that cost $576. Foster Blodgett got out of this $72 of oil cloth for his house. Mr. Alexander has forked over his share of the grabbings. His evidence is very rich. He shows how the auditing committee was humbugged into passing a draft for $5,995, by giving the virtuous Hotchkiss $800 to keep out of the way. Fry said Ed Blodgett was to have a share of this, but Blodgett was innocent, and when he found out Fry's conduct he wanted to shoot him, but didn't. Fight and fraud were farcically mixed up in the matter. The fight was settled by letting Blodgett into his share.

A peculiar feature of these frauds was the way dead men figured in them. One Peter Mayson came to life and got W. H. Stansell, of Dalton, to put through a $1,500 claim for grading the road in 1838. Stansell put the matter in the hands of John Neal, member from Warren, who gave it to Thomas, attorney, who collected it and paid it to Stansell.

Newspapers got some of the droppings. Colonel Jared I Whitaker says that two pass bills for $24,000 for the Intelligencer he knew nothing of. The sum of $15,730 was paid on pass bills without any approval on them. Grubb, the Era man, said the Intelligencer got as high as 300 per cent on usual prices. The good Grubb! Captain Sission said the charges were too high I. P. Harris the Treasurer paid $7,935 and $7,794 to Foster Blodgett for the Intelligencer. Hotchkiss said the monthly payments to the Intelligencer were so big that Blodgett told him to spraddle them over several months. Hotchkiss thinks $5,000 paid to Blodgett on Intelligencer services paid for a $11,000 house. Pass bills were paid for accounts for work done for B. W. Wrenn's department which Wrenn never saw.

Switches came in for a showing, and not those to paddle babies, either. A. L. Harris run this machine, and got $3,760 for the thing, which Dooley testified to be worthless, on trial. Lee, the inventor of the switch, says Harris told him the road would have nothing to do with the switch, and he didn't learn of the sale by Harris until after the lease, when he had Harris arrested for cheating him.

Cooking stoves and large window glass had a hand in this medley of scampishness. The irrepressible Fry euchred them through for E. F. Blodgett's private room and the Turf Exchange. These things were gotten at Langford's. Accounts of $380 and $80 Langford never saw.

The Union Passenger Depot illustrated a gay tale too. A. L. Harris and L. P. Grant both swear that Adams, one of the contractors, told them that he lacked $20,000 of getting the $50,000 he receipted to the road for its share of the depot, and was paid in notes.

The matter of the two Chattanooga boats that sunk the State Road treasury numerous thousands is known.

The richest matter of this whole unctious fraud was the use of the road in furnishing voters for our Atlanta elections. G. W. Evans brought down a train 19th December, 1870, for this special purpose. He collected negroes broadcast and brought them free, with printed tickets on which was a likeness of E. F. Blodgett, so that the illiterates couldn't be fooled. Evans reported $4 60 as the receipts of the trip, while the evidence shows that he took in lots of passenger fare. One black fellow named Massengale swore that he boarded a large number of negroes in Chattanooga at State Road expense who were collected to go to Atlanta to vote. Some of the negroes on their return told him that they had voted twice. For ten days before each election the voters were poured into Atlanta. Boston, agent at Marietta, says when A. L. Harris was candidate for Alderman, he passed 60 voters on free passes signed by Harris. He also says that under Blodgett in 1870, half of the travelers on the State Road had free passes, most of them Bullock's political friends. The most curious transaction of this kind was where the State Road paid $1,000 for the fare of 100 of Scott, Bondurant & Co.'s Air-Line Railroad hands from Atlanta to Lynchburg on the order of R. M. Parks, member of the Legislature, indorsed by Blodgett. Wrenn says Parks never paid this amount. Parks was on the legislative committee investigating the road. Scott says he never paid Parks the amount. G. S. Rhodes tried to vote the negroes but Scott wouldn't let them.

The variety of swindle was wonderful. Walter Withers swears that he settled scrap iron accounts by building iron fence for Harris and Mullins, and making bull frog paper weights. He squared off with the road such little items as $494 and $42 in this way.

Chattanooga board bills were made the instrument of stealing. Joseph Hutson got $5,000, but Milo Pratt receipted the road for $8,923. Mrs. Wilcox got $24, but somebody drew on her account $164. W. P. Crow is entered on the books as getting $126 when he wasn't taking boarders.

Gobbling rent was on docket. The rent due the road from the express company and other parties in Chattanooga floated, some into Hotchkiss' pocket, some for liquors and cigars for the Georgia Investigation Legislative Committee, and some for brandy and cigars for Bullock and friends, on Look Out Mountain.

The charges against the Scofield Rolling Mill are fresh in memory.

The freight blockade in 1870 was caused by Mr. E. S. Nixon, of Savannah, being appointed local agent at Chattanooga, speculating in produce on the road's money, using the depots in which to store his produce, and attending to nobody's freights but his own, while Pratt ran the same monopoly with his coal.

While young Blodgett was in the road's service he had his office fixed up gorgeously with Brussels carpets and gilt tricks worth $199. Fry removed them, and they are still off.

Hulbert testifies that Bullock, during his rule, wanted to buy the New Era and advance State Road money to do it. Hulbert declined. Harris says Blodgett told him Bullock furnished Kimball $20,000 to buy it.

The amount of lawyers' fees paid was $50,845, of which H. P. Farrow got $9,467.

But we have not space to detail more of these frauds. There are frauds for interest on money, frauds for refreshments, frauds for Green Line excursions, frauds for double payments, for medicated paper, frauds for cross ties and wood, etc., etc.

We close with quoting the following interesting letters found among Blodgett's assets left behind him:

To Foster Blodgett:

ATLANTA, GA., March 15, 1870.

My Friend: "Which is what I rise to maintain." I seat myself to state that I am in good health, "hopin that these few lines will find you enjoyin the same blessin."

I wrote you Chisolm's last offer. I presum you have it—5,000 cash, 5,000 in 6 months, 5,000 in 12 months, with interest.

I am telling every body—Dems. and Rads., that you are sure to go in, that Cooper's case shuts up the Democracy, and Rads will put you in on general principles.

Just send me a word. Do the skies lower? Or is the "goose hanging high?" I am going "heavy" on Morton. I say that he is the second power in the government, and is for you "till you can't rest." Everybody admits him to be a whale, and that with him you are safe. But everybody don't imagine how much M. wants you in.

I am just from Chatt. The W. & A. R. R. is in an awful fix. As I rode I prayed.

As soon as you are seated I think I shall go back. My trip helped me. I am getting hearty as a buck, and quite bucky! All is well here. No news, only what you have heard, no doubt, about three Ku-Kluxes here for the penitentiary for seven years, from Chattanooga, Gov. has the regaled, and one has confessed some right smart, with more to come. A Democrat "kotch 'em," and has pocketed $7,000 for his trouble. So rewards have done some good in finding out things.

Pass that C. & Southern Bill, if possible.

As a Democrat, I say "I tell you," my party won't make anything out of that State rights issue. If the Democracy want to split, let them run on the old fogy schedule. I shan't, and I am not alone.

With my prayers, and best wishes for you personally,

I am yours,

V. A. GASKILL.

ATLANTA, GA., March 10, 1871.

Col. Blodgett, Washington City, D. C.:

MY DEAR FRIEND—I rejoice in the good prospect before you. They will soon be realized, and partially reward years of toil and untiring effort on your part to restore us to harmony with the General Government, and peace among ourselves.

When you are seated, the one hundred and odd firm, liberal and tried friends who voted you the honor, will have at least one indomitable, vigilant, judicious "worker" for them, and the old "Union" a true and tried friend. I hear this sentiment on the streets and cars frequently from parties who do not agree with you in politics. I heard it not an hour ago, from a prominent Democrat at the capitol.

But I began this letter to tell you that I. P. H., Tr., says he has no money to pay our pay-roll, and this morning refused, unless I got the Governor's endorsement. Your kind lady would like to have some, and so would some of the rest of us.

But I fear our Tr., is a little inclined to plume himself on supposed favor with the present authorities of the Road, and like the landlord, give the back to those departing, that he may greet those coming.

He says he has no P. O. claims but what he can have cashed here; says he received no money since you left. But he must have some, though he has never had his books balanced up to see how much Jackson claims to have paid the old Road too much, and withdraw some $4,000 to be turned over to the new Co.

I think you better instruct the Tr., to pay my warrants as heretofore. Wrenn, I understand, secured the U. S. check, and sent it to you for endorsement. Of course you know if this is so. The other amount for Gov't Transportation has not been sent in, that I know of. So our finances are not incrasing much.

But I am so much interested in your case before the Senate that I am hardly fit for anything. I would walk from here to Washington, to have you victor. I think by the time you get this, you will be, and thank God I shall not be the only one, by many thousands, in Ga., who will then subscribe themselves as I do now.

Your friend,

N. P. HOTCHKISS.

The Office Question.

As there are grave questions concerning the election and term of office of the various officials in Georgia, to come before the Legislature, we have determined to give extracts from the various provisions of the State Constitution. We do this for the convenience of the members, who can read them and form their own conclusions:

Article 2, Section 1, Paragraph 11. The election of Governor, members of Congress and of the General Assembly, after the year 1868, shall commence on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, unless otherwise provided by law.

Article 3 sec. 1, par. 2. * * * The election for members of the General Assembly shall begin on Tuesday after the first Monday in November of every second year, and except the first election, etc. * * * But the General Assembly may by law change the time of election, and the members shall hold until their successors are elected and qualified.

Article 4 sec. 1. par. 2. After the first election the Governor shall be elected quadrennially, by the persons qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly, on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, until such time be altered by law.

Art. 4, Sec. 2, Par. 8. There shall be a Secretary of State, a Comptroller General, a Treasurer and Surveyor General elected by the General Assembly, and they shall hold their offices for the like period as the Governor.

Art. 5, Sec. 3, Par. 1. There shall be a Judge of the Superior Courts for each Judicial Circuit. At the first appointment of such Judges, under this Constitution, one-half of the number (as near as may be) shall be appointed for four years and the other half for eight years; but all subsequent appointments, except to fill unexpired terms, shall be for the term of eight years.

Art. 5, sec. 5, par. 2. The Ordinary shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Art. 5, sec. 6, par. 1. There shall be one Justice of the Peace, whose official term, except when elected to fill an unexpired term, shall be four years.

Art. 5, sec. 7, par. 1. There shall be an Attorney-General of the State, whose official term, except when appointed to fill an unexpired term, shall be four years.

Art. 5, sec. 8, par. 1. There shall be a Solicitor General for each Judicial Circuit, whose official term, except when appointed to fill an unexpired term, shall be four years.

Art. 9, sec. 1, par. 1. The county officers recognized as existing by the laws of this State, and not abolished by this Constitution, shall, where not otherwise provided for in this Constitution, be elected by the qualified voters of their respective counties or districts, and shall hold their office for two years.

This is all the Constitution says on the subject. On the 10th of March, 1868, the Constitutional Convention passed an ordinance providing for an election of Governor, members of Congress and county officers, which, after providing for the election by the people, says:

And the persons so elected or appointed shall enter upon the duties of the several offices, to which they have been respectively elected, when authorized so to do by acts of Congress or by the order of the General Commanding, and shall continue in office till the regular succession provided for after the year 1868, and until successors are elected and qualified, so that said officers shall, each of them, hold their offices as though they were elected on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1868, or elected or appointed by the General Assembly next thereafter.

This ordinance has only the effect of a legislative act.

The Legislature, on the 3d of October, 1870 passed an act for an election of members of Congress, members of the Legislature and county officers, which election was held in December, 1870.

The Legislature of 1871-2 passed an act repealing this last act. Therefore the election and term of office of officers stand precisely where the Constitution and Code place them.

We think these things are beyond dispute, as the law now stands.

1. That the election for Governor and members of the Legislature and members of Congress takes place on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November next.

2. That the election of county officers takes place on the first Wednesday in January next.

3. That the term of office of Governer and members of the Legislature expire on the second Wednesday in January next.

As to the other officers, we reserve our opinion.

We suggest to our friends to preserve this article for future reference.

DECISIONS

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA.

Delivered in Atlanta, Tuesday, July 16, 1872.

[REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION BY HENRY JACKSON, SUPREME COURT REPORTER.]

E. L. Hudson vs. the State, Misdemeanor, from Dougherty.

WARNER, C. J.

This case came before the Court below on a certiorari from the County Court of Dougherty county, alleging errors committed by the County Court on the trial of an accusation against the plaintiff in error for employing the servants of another in violation of the 4428th section of the Code. The Superior Court affirmed the judgment of the County Court which is assigned for error here. There was a motion made in the County Court to quash the written accusation against the defendant, on the ground that he was accused and charged with employing the servants of another by an agent without alleging the name of the agent, and knowing said servants to be in the employ of the "estate of Davis Pace" without alleging the name of any person who had employed said servants on the Davis Pace estate. The offense consists in any person employing the servants of another, either by himself or agent, during the term for which he, she or they may be employed, knowing that such servant was so employed and that his term of service has not expired. The estate of Davis Pace could not have employed the servants, and if any person had employed them to work on that estate the name of such person should have been alleged. If the defendant employed the servants by an agent, the name of the agent should also be alleged. In our judgment, it was error in the County Court in overruling the motion to quash the written accusation against the defendant, and that the Superior Court should have sustained the certiorari upon that ground of alleged error.

Let the judgment of the Court below be reversed.

Hines & Hobbs, D. H. Pope, for plaintiff in error.

T. R. Lyon, represented by R. F. Lyon, John C. Rutherford, Solicitor General, for defendant.

Rust, Johnson & Co. vs. Ketchum & Hartridge. Motion for new trial, from Dougherty.

WARNER, C. J.

This was a motion for a new trial, on the ground that the case was tried and a verdict rendered against the defendants in the absence of D. P. Hill, who had leave of absence from the Court. The Court refused the motion for a new trial, unless the defendants could satisfy the presiding Judge that they had evidence to make out their defense, and thus prevent a similar verdict against them on a second trial, whereupon the defendants excepted. The defendants had filed their plea to the plaintiffs' action, setting up a good legal defense thereto, and might have been able, if their absent counsel had been present, to have satisfied the jury, if not the presiding Judge, that the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover under the evidence contained in the record on the first trial, and also on the second trial. The bill of exceptions states that the defendants' counsel had leave of absence from the Court, but that the presiding Judge had forgotten it. In our judgment, the new trial should have been granted.—Hamilton vs. Conyers, 25th Ga. Rep. 158, and Summerlin vs. Dent, 36th Ga. Rep. 54. This case differs from that of Bell vs. The Marietta Paper Mills Company, decided at the last term of the Court. In that case there was no plea filed which showed that the defendants had any legal defence to the action, and this Court held that such a plea should be filed and sworn to, otherwise, it did not appear that the defendants had any defence. In this case the defendant's plea was filed and sworn to and evidence introduced on the first trial in support of it.

Let the judgment of the Court below be reversed.

D. P. Hill, for plaintiffs in error. Hines & Hobbs, for defendants.

J. R. Ship vs. J. F. Wingfield, executor. Ejectment, from Lee.

WARNER, C. J.

This was an action of ejectment on the several demises of Elizabeth Warmick, Joseph R. Shipp and of Shipp, in the right of his wife, who had intermarried with Elizabeth Warmick, the drawer of the land, against the defendant to recover the possession of lot number 229, in the first district of Lee county. On the trial the jury found a verdict for the defendant. A motion was made for a new trial on the several grounds specified in the record which was overruled by the Court, and the plaintiff excepted. The defense relied on by the defendant was the statute of limitations. The land was granted to Elizabeth Warmick on the 13th December, 1836. Joseph R. Shipp intermarried with Elizabeth Warmick on the 31st January, 1833. This suit was commenced on the 1st day of May, 1853. The defendant claimed a title to the lot of land, under a deed made by Shotwell, dated 11th November, 1836. Wiley took possession of the settlement of land purchased of Shotwell (of which it is claimed the lot in dispute constituted a part,) the latter part of the year 1836, and has occupied it ever since. Mitchell testified, that in March, 1845, he saw such acts of ownership on the lot, as the sign of timbers for cotton boxes having been got, and that there was a fence of Wiley's enclosing from five to ten acres of the lot in dispute; that this fence enclosed a pond which the fence of Wiley, if it had continued straight on the line dividing lots 229 and 230, would have passed through. Witness asked Wiley's overseer why he made the fence around the pond, who answered that it was to avoid going through the water; that he did not wish to go through deep water; that it was Wiley's land, anyhow. That portion of the witness' answer, as to what Wiley's overseer said, was objected to, and the objection overruled, which is assigned as error. The materiality of this evidence is not very apparent in regard to the main question of possession. Wiley's fence was upon the land, and the statement of his overseer only gives the reason why it was there. That reason did not alter or change the location of the fence on the lot in dispute. But we think this statement of the overseer of Wiley, who was in possession of the land at the time, managing his property for him as his agent, was competent to prove the adverse possession of Wiley. Code, 3721, 2189. Shipp, as the husband of his wife, by virtue of his marital rights under the law as it existed at the time of the commencement of this suit, had the legal right to sue for the land and to reduce the same to possession as his property, and, according to the ruling of this Court in Prescott & Pace vs. Jones & Peavy, 29th Georgia Report, 58, he was the only person who could legally do so, as the title was in him, and not in his wife. The mistake of the plaintiff in error is in the assumption that, under the law as it then existed, that the wife had a separate estate in the land, independent of the marital rights of her husband, against which the statute of limitations did not run during her coverture. In view of the facts of this case as disclosed by the record, and the charge of the Court to the jury as to the law applicable thereto, we find no error in the refusal of the Court to grant a new trial. See Wiley vs. Warmock et al., 30th Georgia Reports, 710.

Let the judgment of the Court below be affirmed.

Hines & Hobbs for plaintiff in error.

Vason & Davis, W. A. Hawkins, represented by R. F. Lyon, G. W. Warwick, for defendant.

Underwriters Insurance Agency vs. Wm. P. Sutherlin. Attachment, from Dougherty.

McCAY, J.

Where an insurance was effected under an open policy of insurance, issued to the company's agent, the insured taking a certificate that his insurance was according to the terms specified in said open policy, which was retained by the agent:

HELD, That in a suit for a loss, it was not sufficient for the plaintiff to produce the certificate alone, since on its face it appeared that it did not contain the whole agreement.

Judgment reversed.

Vason & Davis, Clark & Goss, for plaintiff in error.

W. E. Smith, for defendant.

Harrison Nichols vs. Margaret J. Hampton. Claim, from Worth.

McCAY, J.

A paper containing all the requisites of a mortgage of personal property is a mortgage from the date of its execution, even though it be not attested by an officer.

It is sufficient if it be proven by the subscribing witness, and recorded within three months from it execution.

A paper, providing, for a lien, on a "bay mare," and showing that the mare was purchased by the mortgagor from the mortgagee, is a sufficient discription of the property mortgaged.

It is not necessary that a Notary Public shall affix his seal to the probate of a deed by a subscribing witness.

A mortgage recorded within three months from the date of its execution is a lien from its date even against bona fide purchasers without notice.

An affidavit, probating a mortgage, taken before the attorney of the mortagee, who is a Notary Public, is not a legal affidavit, and a mortgage recorded on such probate is not legally recorded.

Judgment reversed.

D. H. Pope, for plaintiff in error. Wright & Warren, for defendant.

C. P. Hartwell, guardian, and Henry A. Tarver, executor, etc., vs. Elizabeth Tompkins et al. Tax Affidavit, from Dougherty.

McCAY, J.

Where in an arbitration between the guardian of a minor legatee and the executor of an estate it was decreed that all the notes of the estate should be turned over to the minor as her property.

HELD, That in a pending suit on one of the said notes proof of this award excused the filing of the affidavit required by the Act of October 13, 1870, and this is not met by proof that there are outstanding debts against the estate.

Judgment reversed.

Vason & Davis, Richard F. Lyon, for plaintiffs in error.

Wright & Warren. for defendants.

B. B. Odom vs. W. C. Gill. Appeal on collateral issue, from County Court, from Lee.

McKAY, J.

An appeal would, by Section 3,554 of the Code, lie from the verdict of the jury in the County Court, in a collateral issue, at the discretion of the Judge presiding in said Court

Judgment reversed.

R. J. & L. P. D. Warren, for plaintiff in error. Fred H. West, represented by Clark & Goss, for defendant.

Jno. Neal, et. al., vs. George Patten. Equity, from Mitchell.

MONTGOMERY, J.

1. An executor cannot, by a power of attorney not authorized by the will, transfer the entire management of the estate, which he represents, to another, so as to bind creditors. Nor will such a power authorize the agent to sell any portion of the property, which, in his decretion, he may deem to be for the interest of the estate, and thus divest the claims of creditors upon the property sold.

2. A sale of property, by an agent appointed by such a power, is illegal as against creditors, and no subsequent ratification, either in express words, or by long acquiescence, on the part of the executor, can make it valid, so as to defeat their rights.

3. A solicitor of an executor cannot be compelled to produce the sworn answer of such executor, (who has died since the answer was made,) to a bill in Chancery, which answer has never been filed and which was left with such Solicitor to file or not, as he thought best, when the administrator de bonis non cum testamento annexo, objects. It comes within the rule applicable to confidential communications.

Nor can he be compelled to testify to the contents of such answer if it be lost or destroyed.

4. Whether an executor, without authority to that effect in the will, can sell annual crops of the estate by carrying only the samples of such crops to market, we leave undecided. So as to whether crops, made by the testator, come within the meaning of the term "annual crops," as used in the Code.

5. A purchaser who has bought and paid for property of an estate, from one not authorized to sell it, is not entitled, on a bill to marshall assets, which seeks to subject the property, so illegally sold, to the claims of the creditors of the estate, to share in the proceeds of the property (which has been impounded and sold by order of the Court,) upon proof that his money was used in the payment of debts of the estate, not shewing the character of the debts, nor their amounts, nor the persons to whom paid.

6. The report of the Auditor, in this case, was properly admitted to show the validity of the claims, which had been passed upon by him, and which the complainants relied on as shewing their interest in the subject matter in controversy.

7. On the trial of an issue, formed to ascertain the validity of a sale of the property of an estate, and which does not contemplate an order distributing the proceeds of the property (which has been sold, and the proceeds impounded by order of Court) it is not necessary for creditors, whose debts are founded on contracts made before June, 1865, and who are contesting the validity of the sale, to file affidavits of the payments of taxes under the Relief Act of 1870.

8. The sayings of a person in possession of property, levied on against his title made at the time of the levy, are parts of the res gesta, and should be admitted in evidence for what they are worth.

9. A charge not warranted by the evidence should not be given.

Judgment reversed.

Lyon, deGraffenreid & Irwin, A. H. Hammond, Vason & Davis, John Rutherford, for plaintiffs in error.

H. Morgan, James L. Seward, Willis Hawkins, for defendant.

James Harrison et al. vs. James Young and Benjamin Willis. Ejectment, from Worth.

MONTGOMERY, J.

The statute of limitations as to realty having been suspended in Georgia from December 14th, 1861, to the 1st day of January, 1863, as heretofore decided by this Court, adverse possession, under claim of title, from January 1863, until October 16th, 1869, is not a sufficient length of time to perfect a statutory title.

Judgment reversed.

L. P. D. Warren, Hines & Hobbs, for plaintiffs in error.

D. H. Pope, for defendants.

Benj. B. Outzs vs. Wm. Seabrook, administrator. Attachment, from Dougherty.

MONTGOMERY, J.

1. It is not necessary that a traverse to the truth of an affidavit, which is the foundation of an attachment should be sworn to.

2. Where a plaintiff makes an affidavit for the purpose of obtaining an attachment against an administrator, on the ground that he is removing or about to remove the goods of his intestate without the county, and the administrator files a traverse to the affidavit, the plaintiff is a competent witness upon the trial of the issue thus formed, even though the contract, which is the foundation of the plaintiffs claim, was made with the intestate.

3. The effect of a verdict for the defendant upon such an issue, is a dismissal of the attachment under Revised Code, section 3236.

Judgment reversed.

D. H. Pope, John A. Davis, for plaintiff in error.

Hines & Hobbs, for defendant.

M. L. Sheeley vs. Martha Funderburk. Lien for labor, from Macon.

MONTGOMERY, J.

Where a laborer who claims a lien on the property of his employer, under the Act of 1869, undertakes to foreclose it according to the provisions of section 1969 of the Code, he must aver in his affidavit demand for payment of the sum due on his employer, and refusal by the latter to pay. It is not sufficient to aver in general terms that defendant refuses to pay.

Judgment reversed.

John R. Worrill, James E. Schofield, for plaintiff in error.

Phil. Cook, represented by B. P. Hollis, for defendant.

NORTHEASTERN RAILROAD.—It is gratifying to know that our Athens and Northeast Georgia friends are in prospect of an early railroad connection, the advantages of which are to be of great magnitude to that hitherto neglected section of the State. With an energy and self-reliance worthy of all admiration, the people of that section, tired of waiting upon the dilatory assistance reasonably expected from other quarters, addressed their individual energies and contributions to the work. We now have the results in the location of the road, and the advertisement, in another column, for the reception of proposals for the grading and masonry of the road between Athens and its intersection with the Atlanta and Richmond Air Line Railroad—a distance of thirty-eight and a half miles.—Chronicle and Sentinel 10th.

Committed.—Justice Butt yesterday committed Mary Crawford (col.) for malicious mischief.

Out on Bond.—Yesterday E. F. Blodgett was discharged from jail upon giving bond in the sum of $15,000.

Turtle Soup.—At the number one restaurant of Captain Tim Murphy, on Marietta street, can be found an excellent article of turtle soup to-day.

The following was the state of the thermometer yesterday, as kept by H. C. Pope, druggist: at 8 o'clock A. M., 78; at 12 M., 82; at 4 P. M., 80; at 6 A. M., 80.

Cutting Scrape.—Two men interviewed each other with knives, at Block's Candy Factory. Charles Shalls was slightly wounded by William Stewart.

Fine Grape Vine.—E. W. Holland has on his place, New Holland, on the Air-Line Railroad, a grape vine thirty-four inches in diameter, with a hollow of five inches.

Brought Up.—Gilbert D. Greer, of Jasper county, was brought up yesterday evening and lodged in Fulton county Jail. He is charged with killing his brother-in-law, Mr Middlebrooks.

Twelve City Lots.—Twelve lots belonging to the city, part of the old fair ground, will be sold on the premises this afternoon at 4½ o'clock by C. C. Hammock.

Forty-Fourth Senatorial District. We learn that the Good Templars are prospering in the Forty Fourth Senatorial District, and that Charles S. Evans has resigned the position of Post Master at Ringgold, with the intention of stumping the district for Senator.

S. A. E.—The annual Convention of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity will be held in this city on the 23d instant. As this is the largest college fraternity in the Southern States, doubtless a large delegation will be present.

Firemen's Supper.—We acknowledge the reception of an invitation to attend a benefit, sociable, ball and supper given by the ladies of Griffin to Stonewall Fire Company, No. 2, on Friday night. The sociable comes off at George's Hall—the ball at Scheurman's Hall and the supper at Woodruff's Hall.

City Court.—Joe Bugg (colored) was found not guilty of larceny from the house.

Robert Carter (colored) was found guilty of larceny from the house, and sentenced to pay a fine of $75 and costs or work on the public works twelve months.

Jane Wood (colored) was found guilty of larceny from the house.

Bowdon.—A letter from President Henderson, of Bowdon Institute has been shown us, in which he speaks most highly of the speech of Mr R. S. Jefferies, of this city. He says: "His speech was logical, well-conceived, appropriate, elaborate, and elegant to a degree seldom found in an address so instructive and practical." He states, further, that the speech "gave universal satisfaction." This certainly is a high compliment.

Fine Cotton.—We examined several beautiful and healthy stalks of cotton on yesterday at the office of Judge C. H. Strong. The cotton was raised on lands cultivated in Douglass county, about seventeen miles from Atlanta, by T. J. Lowe & Bros. The specimens were an average from a growing crop on fifty acres of old sedge fields, that had not been cultivated since the war, and on which fertilizers has been used.

Blodgett's Securities.—The case of Foster Blodgett's securities on his bond as Superintendent of the Western and Atlantic railroad, being a motion for an injunction against the execution issued against them by the Comptroller General, was concluded yesterday by the Attorney General for the State and the Hon. B. H. Hill for the complainants. The bill of like character by Blodgett's securities on his bond as Treasurer of said road was postponed for a few days. It is likely that Judge Hopkins will withold his decision till that case has also been argued.

Exhibition of Bonnheim's School.—The exercises at the exhibition of the pupils of Rev. B. Bonnheim's English and German School, on Monday night, at Concordia Hall, were varried and interesting. Declamation was in English and German. All the pupils acquitted themselves handsomely. We cannot forebear mentioning the "Maniac" by Master Jacob Menko, and "Emmett's Vindication" by Master Adolph Rintels. The dialogues were acted with spirit, and brought down the house. Master Adolph Rintels sang "Glad to Get Home," and was loudly encored. Mrs. Murray gave fine evidence of her musical talent in song and on the piano. Everything passed off finely, and the refreshments at the close were voted just the thing.

A Pleasant Occasion.—Yesterday, by appointment, some twenty five persons, members of the Pomological Society, paid a visit to the orchard of Colonel J. R. Wallace, President of the Society. Through the liberality of Messrs. O. H. Jones & Co., the party were transported thither in magnificent equipages. Colonel Wallace has a large orchard and almost every variety of peaches, pears, plums, figs, etc. A stroll through his orchard convinced the party that Colonel Wallace was sound on the fruit question. After partaking heartily of the delicious fruit the party refreshed themselves with lemonade. They were not very thirsty, but about sixteen gallons, more or less, disappeared quickly. We will not attempt a description of Colonel Wallace's orchard. It must be seen to be appreciated. One gentleman remarked that it must have been an Amelia Peach that Eve tempted Adam with.

The party next proceeded to Johnathan Norcross' vineyard. Mr. Norcross has some two acres in four year old vines of Ives, Concord and Hartford Prolific. The sight is magnificent. Mr. Norcross has some twenty or thirty thousand pounds of grapes now ripening. We will have more to say on this subject hereafter.

Life of Rev. John E. Dawson, D. D., by his Sister Mrs. A. F. Hill.—This ably written and interesting work, neatly bound in cloth, has been laid on our table, and has received our careful perusal. We cordially commend the work as a faithful chronicle of a noble, earnest life—one spent in our midst—the outlines of which are still fresh in the memory of most of us. The numerous friends of Dr. Dawson, throughout the South, will rejoice with us that the work of collecting and perpetuating the details of the varied and extraordinarily successful ministry of that humble servant of God has been entrusted to and so faithfully executed by the accomplished authoress. We wish the lives of our truly great men were more often thus recorded; not those alone who attain political or military eminence—that is well enough—but we mean those humble, faithful and devoted ones, whose unostentatious but powerful influence is lent to the spread of the Gospel and the promotion of all that tends to refine, elevate and ennoble human life, and the fragrance of whose good deeds long outlasts their earthly career. Nothing conduces so much to virtue as a good example. And we wish that the one before us could be brought home to the hearts and consciences of all the people that some at least might thereby be incited to its imitation, and to seek diligently the reward which awaits the righteous. The work is written in an easy, graceful style, and being entirely free from aught that is sectarian or proscriptive, cannot fail to interest every one. It can be had at J. J. Toon's, Publisher.

Atlanta—Yet Once Again.—Another enterprise is now within the grasp of Atlanta. Some twelve years ago the Baptists of the Southern States established a Southern Baptist Theological Seminary for the gratuitous education of their ministry. This Seminary was located temporarily in Greenville, South Carolina and has afforded instruction to more than two hundred ministers. The number annually augments. There are now nearly seventy in the present classes. The Board of Trustees announced, one year ago, that it was desirable to remove the Seminary to some eligible point desirous of securing it. Two months ago it was determined upon that the Seminary should be removed, and that the decision as to its locality should be left to a committee of seven, and that their decision should be rendered about the first of August. At that time this committee of seven will visit such places as offer inducement for its location in their midst, will inquire into the validity of their offers and will then decide.

Memphis, Louisville and Russelville are now no longer competitors. The race is narrowed down to Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta. It remains to be seen which of the three shall be the successful one.

The decision of the committee is to be final. Steps will be taken to remove the Seminary to the place selected. The question of removal is therefore a settled on.

I desire in my next to show the desirableness of having this Seminary in Atlanta and then to suggest what may be necessary to secure it. A. T. S.

Personal.—General D. M. DuBose is in the city.

This appeal is therefore made to the public, not alone to Georgians and the people of the South, but to all interested in Industrial Education, to aid us in this endeavor, by sending to the Museum of the State College whatever may illustrate Agriculture, Manufactures, or any of the Mechanic Arts.

We solicit models of machines of any character; models of bridges; plans and photographs of buildings, bridges, etc.; minerals, specimens of ores; specimens of woods; products of agriculture; products of manufactures, exhibiting as far as possible the various stages of preparation; and generally, whatever may illustrate the industrial arts.

GENERAL GRANT OF THE U. S. A.

AIR—"Captain Jinks."

I was General Grant of the U. S. A.,
With nothing to do but lounge all day,
And drink and smoke and draw my pay
As General of the Army.
I had shown the rebels how to fight,
How to fight, how to fight—
I had shown the rebels how to fight,
And I was the pet of the army.
I was General Grant of the U. S. A.
I fear that I will rue the day
When I gave up the honors and pay
Of General of the Army.

I am President now of the U. S. A.,
Not much to do, and less to say,
With plenty of gifts and better pay
Than as General of the Army.
I give my relations each a place,
Each a place, each a place—
I give my relations each a place,
But not the men of my army.
I was General Grant of the U. S. A.,
I fear that I, etc.

Fred's a Lieutenant of the U. S. A.
He has gone to Europe on full pay,
And with him has gone, in a flunkey way,
The General of the Army.
Fred shows the foreigners he can take,
He can take, he can take,
Fred shows the foreigners he can take
Gifts, as well as his daddy.
I was General Grant, etc.

I should like to be President many years,
But I begin to have my fears
They will cut off my head with political shears,
And vote for Horace Greeley.
And then I shall not be President,
President, President—
And then I shall not be President,
Nor General of the Army.
I was General Grant of the U. S. A.,
I fear that I shall rue the day
When I gave up the honors and pay
As General of the Army.

Personal.

The following paragraphs appear in the Macon Enterprise, in the form of special Washington dispatches:

WASHINGTON, July 12.—It is stated here that W. L. Scruggs, editor of the Atlanta Whig, is an applicant for the position of Revenue Assessor for the Fourth District of Georgia. He is in the pay of Henry Clews of New York, and has received money from that gentleman to sustain his puny sheet. It is believed that Jennings, the present Assessor, will be retained, Scruggs having been deprived of his principal backer, Farrow, who has been consigned to a withdrawal in consequence of Scruggs' record having been shown up here in a disreputable light. He was also backed up by Sam Bard and Ben Conley. It is reported that Conley, junior, was an aspirant but compromised with Scruggs. There is nothing against Jennings.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Some very interesting facts are being developed here in relation to the recent efforts of Farrow, Bard, Robb, Marsten and others to obtain for Scruggs, of Atlanta, the Collectorship of the 4th district. Their efforts have led to an investigation of Scruggs' past record and showing up his history, and his connection with Bullock. A certain Atlanta official, one of his victims, told how Federal officials in Georgia had been taxed to support Scruggs' penny paper—and let the cat out of the bag about Clews-Bullock-Scruggs' bond transactions.

Now a more infamous batch of falsehoods than the above, never disgraced the columns of the public press. I pronounce the whole a lie, in so far as respects the following charges, viz.: that I am in the pay of Henry Clews, or have received money from that gentleman to sustain any paper; that Farrow ever was, or was ever asked to become my "backer;" that I was ever "backed up" by Gov. Bard or Governor Conley; that Conley, Junior, and myself ever "compromised" or had any understanding respecting any position whatever; that I ever applied for the Collectorship of the 4th District, or even signified a willingness to accept such a position if tendered me; that I have any connection whatever, directly or indirectly, with the alleged Bullock bond frauds, or that I ever had; that ever, to my knowledge, Federal office holders in Georgia, or elsewhere, were taxed for the support of any paper with which I may have been, or am now, connected; and, finally, that I ever made war upon Mr. Jennings with a view of turning him out and getting his place. These charges, separately and as a whole, I pronounce false and scandalous, and the anonymous writer of them a knave or a fool.

When in Washington last May, pending the dicussion over the Southern cotton claims by Congress, I was told by a friend there that the Assessorship for the Fourth District would soonbe vacated, either by resignation or removal. This occurred the day before I left the city for my home in Atlanta, and the gentleman who imparted the information urged me to make formal application for the place, saying that it would certainly be vacant in a few days. This I declined, but signified a willingness to accept the appointment if tendered me, after it should become vacant. I did not even call to see Commissioner Douglass on that or any other business, but started home the next day. A few days after my arrival in Atlanta, I received a letter from a friend indorsing the blank form of an application, which he desired that I should sign, and upon it procure the indorsements of some two or three good men in Georgia. This, he said, was a form necessary for the Commissioner to file in his office. After some hesitation, I signed this application, procured the indorsements of Judge Cotting, Judge McCay, Col. Dever, and Maj. Burnett, and forwarded it to the writer as he requested; but with the distinct averment that I would not join in any war upon Mr. Jennings, or enter into any scramble for a trifling little office like an Assessorship. This all happened nearly two months ago, and I have heard nothing from it since, except what I have seen in the newspapers.

I believe Mr. Clews, of New York, did publish one or more personal communications in the Atlanta Era, during the time I was its Managing Editor; but they were paid for at the regular rates per line, and entered into the business transactions of the office, just as all personal communications are published in well regulated journals the world over. I never owned a dollar's worth of stock in the Era, and was only connected with it in my professional capacity as a journalist, at a stipulated salary. Nor did I then know, or now know, who were the real owners of that paper.

I have advocated, and still advocate, the legalization and payment of the bonds issued by Bullock and now in the hands of innocent purchasers. I do this upon the same principle that the city of New York legalized and paid all her Tammany ring bonds—as a means of saving the public credit abroad, if for no higher reason.

In conclusion, I will only add that I have been a citizen of Georgia for eleven years, and was born in an adjoining State, not two hundred miles from Atlanta; there are gentlemen of high social and commercial standing in this city who have known me from boyhood, and will bear witness there has never been ought in my "record" that could be tortured into a suspicion upon my personal character or upon my business integrity and honor as a gentleman. And now if this cowardly assassin who assails me from behind a mask thinks he can show aught to the contrary, let him come out like a man, give his name to the world and do his worst. I am prepared to meet him.

WILLIAM L. SCRUGGS.

FOUNDED ON A ROCK!—The disappointed adventurers who have from time to time attempted to run their worthless potions against Drake's Plantation Bitters, vow that they cannot understand what foundation there is for its amazing popularity. The explanation is simple enough. The reputation of the world-renowned tonic is founded upon a rock, the rock of experience. All its ingredients are pure and wholesome. How, then, could tricksters and cheats expect to rival it with compounds of cheap drugs and refuse liquor, or with liquorless trash in a state of acetious fermentation? Of course the charlatans have come to grief. Their little game has failed. Their contempt for the sagacity of the community has been fitly punished. Meanwhile Plantation Bitters seem to be in a fair way of eventually superseding every other medicinal preparation included in the class to which it belongs. In every State and Territory of the Union it is, to-day, the accepted specific for nervous debility, dyspepsia, fever and ague, rheumatism, and all ailments involving a deficiency of vital power.

THE VITAL DRAIN.—It is necessary to the health of the body that its exhausted and refused particles should be carried off by the excretory organs, and it is equally necessary that the waste matter thus expelled should be replaced by new elements derived from digested and assimilated food. It is evident, therefore, that good digestion and perfect assimination are essential to bodily vigor; and it is because Hostetter's Stomach Bitters powerfully assist these processes, that it is regarded by the intelligent classes, whose opinions are founded on observation, as the only absolute specific for dispepsia and its attendant ills, at present known. When the system, either from constitutional causes, overwork, excess, anxiety, or actual disease, is in an unnaturally relaxed condition, something more than its exhausted particles passes through the pores. Vitality leaks through these ventaged Elements which should remain in the blood, and enrich it are evolved, and that fluid becomes then watery and incapable of removing the solids of the body as fast as they decay. The consequences are emaciation, debility, nervousness, loss of spirits, and a general, or perhaps a rapid, decline of all powers of life. It is in cases like this that the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters are most conspicuous. The first two or three doses sometimes produce a change in the feelings and aspect of the invalid that is perfectly astonishing, and by a persevering use of this superlative vegetable tonic and alterative, the vital drain is sure to be arrested, the strength reinstated, the flesh restored, the constitution reinforced, and the brain relieved of the cloud that obscured it.

TIME and enlightened experience have shown that certain substances formerly used and relied on in medical practice, are unnecessary and dangerous; yet some of these substances have found their way into medical compounds. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters, however, contain nothing injurious, being composed exclusively of vegetable substances from California. For all disorders of the liver, kidneys, bladder, skin, and digestive organs, and for purifying the blood, they are the most wonderful remedy known.

GEORGIA, Fulton County.

To the Superior Court of said county:

YOUR petitioner, Paul Jones, Senior, showeth that in due course of trade and for a valuable consideration, on the 19th day of December, 1871, by purchase from Jesse C. Kyle, he acquired title to a promissory note (here to the Court shown) for the sum of Eight Thousand Dollars, made by Amy H Seils, W A S Rondeau and P H Snook, payable to said Kyle, or bearer, dated February 13th, 1871, and due on or before the first day of January, 1872; and that at the same time he, by assignment from the said Kyle, acquired title to a mortgage deed, (here also to the Court shown) executed by said Amy H. Seils to said Kyle and his assigns, to secure the payment of said note, and bearing even date therewith; which mortgage deed covers and embraces all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Atlanta, and being part of A J Orme's subdivision of block number one hundred and forty-six, in original lot number fifty-one, in the fourteenth district of originally Henry now Fulton county—said portion fronting north on East Harris street, one hundred and eighty-three feet and running back on Butler street two hundred and two feet, with all the rights, members and appurtenances to the said premises in anywise belonging.

Your petitioner avers that the condition of said mortgage deed is broken, that said note is wholly unpaid, and that the amount due thereon is eight thousand dollars, principal, besides lawful interest from maturity. He therefore prays that said mortgage may be foreclosed, and that the usual rule to that end be granted and served according to law.

L. E. BLECKLEY,
June 7, 1872. Petitioner's Attorney.

On filing the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the court that the said mortgagor, Amy H. Seils, pay into court on or before the first day of the next term, to-wit, the second Monday in October next, the principal, interest and cost, or show cause why the equity of redemption in and to the said mortgaged premises should not be forever barred and foreclosed; and that this rule be served as prescribed by law.

Is a powerful Tonic, especially adapted for use in the Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD, DERANGEMENT OF THE LIVER AND SPLEEN, TUMORS, DROPSY, POVERTY OF THE BLOOD, DEBILITY, WEAKNESS OF THE INTESTINES, UTERINE OR URINARY ORGANS.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

It is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutricious food, taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and, by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

IT' long experience and a thorough knowledge of the business in all its diversified branches are essential to the keeping that which the public has long heard of but seldom seen,

A GOOD HOTEL,

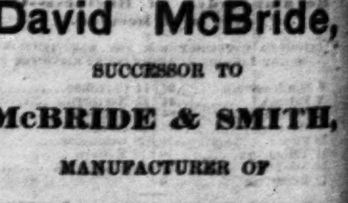

The undersigned flatter themselves that they are fully competent to discharge their obligations to their patrons. But they are not only experienced in hotel keeping—they modestly would claim to have

THE BEST ARRANGED AND MOST COMPLETELY AND EXPENSIVELY FURNISHED

House throughout, in the State, which is located exactly where everybody would have it situated, immediately in Front and Adjacent to the Passenger Depot, where travelers can enjoy the most sleep and less liabilities to be left by the perplexingly constant departure of the trains.

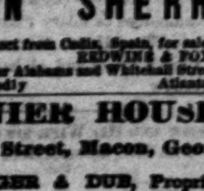

To all these important advantages is added a table that is well supplied with the best and choicest dishes the city and country can afford; nor would they omit to mention that their servants, trained to the business, have never been surpassed for politeness and attention to guests.

For the truth of these statements, we refer the public to our patrons who reside in every State in the Union.
